NEWSROOM NOTES

There is an Illinois state memorial which is a real family institution. Its name is Dickson Mounds.

We found during our recent vacation that the memorial's superintendent is Dr. Don F. Dickson; the guides who assist him are his uncles, Marion and Ernest Dickson; the land on which it is situated was owned by the Dickson family for about 100 years before being acquired by the state in 1945.

The attraction of the memorial is a large Indian burial mound which has been excavated to reveal the skeletons of more than 200 persons buried there along with pottery, tools and other artifacts. The whole exhibit is protected by a permanent building, making this a place to be visited at any time of the year.

We hope no one gets the idea that this is a grisly pile of bones to shock visitors. Actually, the excavation presents a picture of a way of life which can be studied in no other way. The Indians who built the mound had no writing and no means of recording their thoughts and history. Only by uncovering the graves and home sites which they used can anything be learned of them.

What are some of the things which can be learned about the people who built the mound?

The fact that they established a cemetery indicates a respect for the individual. More primitive peoples did not bother. Families were buried together, showing an appreciation of the values of family life. Food bowls and tools buried with the body reveal a faith in a future existence in which those articles would be needed. Pottery shaped like pumpkins and squashes shows a love of beauty and style.

Anyone who thinks these Indians were a backward people should look for the child's food bowl with a bear's head decoration on one and the bear's tail on the other for a handle. The potter who made it 1,000 years ago carefully hollowed out the bear's head and inserted several grains of sand. The efforts make an admirable baby's rattle which still works after centuries in the ground.

The decision to leave the bones and artifacts in place as they were uncovered makes the Dickson Mound unique. It was the first attempt to leave the discoveries in place and was made possible by the fact that there is no acid in the soil of the mound and the bones do not deteriorate.

One of the highlights of a visit to the mound is the opportunity to meet the men who were responsible for uncovering the mound. Dr. Dickson had the idea of excavating the mound in 1927. At first he intended to study the findings and then replace the soil, but so many historians, doctors and others came to visit the diggings that, finally, the decision was made to build a structure to protect the bones and keep a permanent display.

After about 15 years as a privately operated exhibit, the state bought the site and opened it as a state park. Through the years land has been added and the area now offers picnic grounds and camping areas.

As you may have guessed, we'd recommend a visit to Dickson Mounds for a glimpse into the civilization which covered Illinois before the white man came. The memorial is located about 130 miles from Dixon. It's just west of Rt. 78 about five miles north of Havana.

British Pull Troops in Kuwait, U.N. Stalemated

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Security Council attempts to settle the explosive Iraq-Kuwait dispute wound up in stalemate today as a Soviet veto killed a British move for the United Nations to guarantee the sheikdom's independence.

Cigarette Smoker Makes Gold Strike

VIAREGGIO, Italy (AP)—Mameli Codecasi lit a cigarette and tried to puff. It didn't work. Angriely he crumpled it up — and struck gold.

In the cigarette were four tiny gold rings. They apparently got mixed into the tobacco when a girl worker in the state cigarette factory lost a bracelet or necklace.

Police Service Extraordinary

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP)—Police service was extraordinary for a woman in distress at nighttime. Mrs. Bob Miles of Missoula called the Police Department at 4 a.m. Friday. She told the desk officer she thought her car was running and would a patrolman be sent to turn the engine off.

A patrolman did. He also rang the doorbell and returned the woman her keys.

British Guiana at Point of Decision

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP)—British Guiana, on the doorstep of independence, is nearing an election that may lean its government toward Moscow or the West.

Anti-Communists are seeking to check the leftward career of Cheddi Jagan, the East Indian dentist who heads the dominant political force in this steaming colony on the northeast coast of South America.

Veteran observers — British, American and Guianese — seem inclined to think Jagan's People's Progressive Party will win a majority of seats in the legislative assembly Aug. 21 and thereby form a government. Some of Jagan's political opponents express fear that this would lead to a Cuba-like regime.

Trade Minister

Jagan, 43, minister of trade and industry, calls himself a socialist. He claims a policy of active neutrality.

"We admire Fidel Castro, but his programs do not necessarily apply to British Guiana," said Jagan's U.S.-born wife, Janet, herself a powerful political leader as minister of labor, health and housing.

A counter bid by the United Arab Republic to demand immediate withdrawal of British troops guarding the little nation's border with Iraq was rejected by the 11-nation council. Only the U.A.R., the Soviet Union and Ceylon supported it.

The council standoff came as Britain suddenly pulled 250 crack Coldstream Guardsmen out of Kuwait and flew them to the British island base of Bahrain 300 miles away in the Persian Gulf.

Britain's move — less than a week after she began her troop buildup at the request of Kuwait's Sheikh Abdullah as-Salim as-Sabah — indicated she felt a deterrent effect against Iraq's annexation bid had been achieved.

Britain still has a force of nearly 5,000 in Kuwait, however, bolstered by air and naval support.

Despite the deadlock, the council will continue in a watchdog role in the dispute which threatens Middle East peace. Council President Leopoldo Benites of Ecuador said the council would go back into session at once if developments warranted.

Theft Reported

Theft of three bathing suits from a clothes line was reported to police Thursday at the Henry Schumacher residence, 310 Lincoln Way.

Boy Suspected In Murder of Wis. Farmer

DODGEVILLE, Wis. (AP)—A 52-year-old dairy farmer was shot in the back as he plowed a corn field Friday afternoon. He bled to death while seated on his tractor.

"We have a murder on our hands," said Iowa County Sheriff Roy Reese who had broadcast a statewide alarm for a 16-year-old boy. "It has to be that way," said the sheriff. "The boy told a neighbor he did it."

Killed was Curtis Stephens, the well-liked operator of a large dairy farm. His body was discovered by his wife as she passed the field in which he had been working while bringing in the cows for the evening milking. Stephens and his wife were the parents of an 18-year-old son living on the farm and a married daughter.

Stephens was struck once between the shoulder blades by a .22 caliber rifle bullet which penetrated a lung. He was found slumped over the wheel of the tractor which he had managed to turn off.

Reese and 15 deputies searched a woods nine miles east of here through the night. "It would be difficult to find a man in there in the daytime," said the sheriff. The hunt continued in the same area today.

The boy had been living on the Stephens farm for three years after being placed in the couple's custody by Racine juvenile authorities.

Ballerinas Really on Their Toes

LONDON (AP)—Russian ballet dancers appear to have gone on a dental spree—at the expense of British taxpayers.

One 23-year-old ballerina has had 14 extractions, 11 fillings, two teeth crowned and two false teeth fitted.

The girl paid a London dentist one pound ($2.80). The actual cost to Britain's National Health Service, which is financed largely out of taxation, was 39 pounds ($109).

A spokesman for the Leningrad Kirov Ballet Company's British agents said a dozen girl dancers have been paying regular visits to London dentists to have neglected teeth fixed at a cost of 1 pound each.

Under the National Health Service Britons—and visitors—pay only 1 pound for dental treatment with the rest of the cost being met out of government funds.

Drops Plan to Reduce Number In Armed Forces

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev announced today that the Soviet Union has suspended planned reduction in its armed forces in view of the world situation.

War budgets of North Atlantic nations are growing, Khrushchev said, and the Soviet government accordingly has decided to increase defense allocations for this year by 3,144,000,000 rubles.

The Soviets value the ruble at $1.11.

This will raise the Soviet Union's announced military spending in 1961 to 12,399,000,000 rubles.

Khrushchev asserted that these were forced measures.

"We are taking them due to the emerging circumstances because we cannot neglect the interests of the Soviet people's security," he said.

The premier appealed in a speech to the leaders of the United States, Britain and France to "display wisdom" and join in concluding a peace treaty with Germany.

He spoke at a Kremlin reception for graduates of Soviet military academies.

Radio Moscow and the Soviet News Agency Tass joined in relaying his words to the world.

"In our time no other step can be more peaceable than the conclusion of a peace treaty and the elimination of the vestiges of the last war," Khrushchev said.

NATO Depot Routs Four School Kids

GLEN DOUGLAS, Scotland (AP)—Scotland's smallest school — only four pupils — is giving away to an arms depot.

It will be a sad leave-taking for the kids who enjoyed the school's specialties — outdoor classes and nature study every day. They will have to travel 10 miles to another school.

The site on Loch Lomondside is being cleared for a $19,600,000 arms store being built by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

Find Gerty Has No Tumor

CHICAGO (AP)—Doctors who performed exploratory chest surgery on Dr. Francis J. Gerty, Illinois director of Public Welfare, have reported they found no evidence of a tumor.

The surgery was undertaken Friday after shadows were found on X-rays taken of his chest. Dr. Gerty had been in the hospital earlier with a virus infection.

The doctors said they expected Gerty to recover quickly.

Hoffa Advises Foes He's Won

Asks Critics to Get Lost, Admit They're Whipped

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—James R. Hoffa today advised his critics to get lost. He said he's whipped 'em and they might as well admit it.

Hoffa, 48, a one-time Detroit warehouse hand, was elected overwhelmingly Friday to a second five-year term as president of the Teamsters, the nation's largest labor union, over only token opposition.

"Seriously," Hoffa remarked later, "I think Bobby Kennedy, his brother the President, the secretary of labor, and the supposed Senate select committee ought to recognize now that the time and effort they've put in trying to destroy the Teamsters have completely failed. It was a waste of time."

Administration

Hoffa referred, of course, to President Kennedy, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg, and to the Senate investigating Committee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark.

"From now on, they ought to leave us alone," Hoffa said. "They ought to quit fooling around and let us operate as a trade union and as Americans."

Hoffa said the charges and investigations piled up against him and the Teamsters during nearly four years have been no picnic, but he said he isn't nervous about them continuing.

Hoffa was asked about his goals for the next five years as head of the 1.7 million Teamsters union. He said that he wants to increase the union's membership to at least 2 million and return to "the house of labor," meaning the AFL-CIO. The federation expelled the Teamsters for corruption several years ago.

Fewer Strikes

Hoffa said that another aim is to minimize strikes while reducing the number of strikes.

ing the accepted retirement age to 55 years after 20 years of work. The present Social Security retirement age is 65, but Hoffa has negotiated a 60-year retirement age in most Teamsters contracts.

The Teamsters convention adjourned Friday night after a flamboyant finale to the five-day session. The approximately 2,000 delegates engaged in a noisy and colorful election session whipped up by a jazz band and such slogans "Go, go with Tony Pro" and "Boola, boola for Frank Matula."

Anthony (Tony Pro) Provenzano of Hoboken, N. J., and Frank Matula, of Los Angeles, re-elected respectively as union vice president and trustee, both have criminal records.

Landslide

Hoffa, as everyone has predicted, was elected in a landslide. His only opponent, Milton J. Liss, president of Local 478, Newark, N. J., withdrew halfway through a tedious roll call vote. Only 15 delegates voted for him. Five delegates abstained. Eventually, Hoffa's reelection was made unanimous.

Hoffa emerged from the convention with possibly the broadest powers ever vested in a labor union leader and with the biggest salary, $75,000.

Geneva Nuclear Test Ban Talks May Be at Dead End

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some U.S. authorities think the latest angry exchange of charges between the Soviet Union and the United States indicates the Geneva negotiations for a nuclear weapons test ban may be at a dead end.

Officially, however, the United States is asking the Soviet Union to breathe new life into the negotiations that have dragged on for almost three years.

In Moscow Friday, the Soviet government accused the United States of trying to "justify, in the eyes of public opinion, the resumption of nuclear tests."

The United States fired back a charge that the Soviet Union was dodging the central issue of the negotiations — "Whether the Soviet Union is now willing and prepared to reach an accord which would halt nuclear weapons tests under effective international controls."

Reverse Position
The United States called on to U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn

Thompson in Moscow Wednesday and made public by the Soviets Friday.

U. S. Reply

At about the same time the U.S. reply was announced, an influential Republican senator told the Senate the United States can no longer delay resumption of its own weapons testing program.

Sen. Styles Bridges, R-N.H., said that during the almost three years that nuclear weapons tests have been suspended and the Geneva talks carried on, the Soviet Union may have gone ahead in secret on development of a neutron bomb — a completely new type of nuclear weapon.

Bridges is chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee. Officials say privately the United States is reluctant to resume nuclear weapons tests, fearing it would subject the country to severe criticism throughout the world.

Mobs Fight Police

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Fighting broke out Friday night as Trujillo supporters struck back at leftists who staged the first anti-government demonstration in the Dominican Republic in 31 years.

Followers of slain dictator Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo invaded the headquarters of the opposition Dominican Popular Movement, wrecked the furniture and set the building afire.

The clashes erupted in the center of the capital.

The outbreaks occurred during the first day of open opposition political activity permitted by the successors of the dictator.

Pledges Freedom

President Joaquin Balaguer had pledged more freedom and political reforms after Trujillo's assassination May 30.

The Trujillo backers, carrying a huge picture of the dictator, marched on DPM headquarters a few hours after a mob attacked and burned the pro-government Radio Caribe.

DPM members, armed with guns rushed out against the invaders and destroyed the picture.

Police and firemen rushed to the scene.

Police called the attack a "little reprisal" for the anti-Trujillo demonstrations.

The fresh outbreak came after an estimated 8,000 students, workers and women armed with lighted candles rushed from a political rally at Colon Park and attacked Radio Caribe.

Fire Into Mob

Police fired into the mob of stone-hurling invaders and drove them off, but the radio station, set afire with gasoline, burned down.

At least six persons were wounded and some 20 arrested.

For three hours before starting their rampage, the demonstrators listened to speeches at the rally.

The government promptly warned that drastic steps would be taken against opposition groups if an investigation disclosed Communist and Cuban agents were involved in the disorder.

Balaguer said political freedom will be respected but any groups found to be infiltrated by subversives would be suppressed.

The parties represented at the rally were the leftist DPM and the Dominican Revolutionary Party (PRD). Leaders of both groups only recently returned from exile.

Police sources said the understood DPM leaders have instructions from the Castro regime to infiltrate public meetings to promote disorders and riots.

Many black and red flags — Castro's colors — were seen during the political rally and rioting that followed.

During 1960, sufficient fiberboard acoustical ceiling tile was purchased through the nation's lumber yards to sound-condition more than 1,200,000 average 12 by 15 rooms.

Judging by the number of inquiries we have received on the subject in recent months, the figure will be even higher this year. Let's look, therefore, at some facts about this material, so widely used by do-it-yourselfers in the construction and remodeling of extra living space in their homes.

Acoustical ceiling tile absorbs and thus eliminates up to 70 per cent of the noise that strikes it. Sound enters the openings in the tile and is smothered by the action of friction against the porous fibers. The openings may be drilled in uniform or random patterns and varied in size.

Ceiling tile comes with a factory-painted surface. Once all tiles were white or off-white, but a wide variety of pastel and bold decorator colors is now available.

Fiberboard acoustical ceiling tile has sufficiently slow flame-spread characteristics to meet the requirements of the National Building Code sponsored by the National Board of Fire Underwriters for use in most areas of buildings of all occupancies. Where regulations call for increased flame resistance, special tile can be purchased.

When purchasing tile, it is important to read the manufacturer's

Polly's Quiz

Spring is the favorite time for exterior house painting. And, with fresh paint why not a fresh, new color?

A frame cottage, not too far from my home, was unnoticed for years. It became a charming eye-catcher after it was painted a pretty pink with white trim and shutters and a black roof.

Gray is enjoying a wave of popularity as an exterior house color. Deep gray, with white trim, becomes gayer when shutters are vivid blue. A pale gray house looks pretty with pink shutters and vice versa.

Barn red glamorizes many colonial-type frame houses and sunny yellow is a good choice on a tree shaded lot. Always remember the roof color when selecting house paint colors.

Don't settle for the same color for your house when there are endless different combinations which will work a face-lifting transformation.

Dear Polly: The bottom half of our house is dark red brick and the top is shingle painted brown. Trim and doors are ivory. We are going to repaint this spring and I would like some changes. I still like brown for the top and want white trim but don't want white doors as my three children mark them all over. What color doors do you suggest?—Mrs. J. S.

Dear Mrs. J. S.: Forgive me but I'm going to give you more advice than you asked for. Paint the shingle top of your house the same dark red as the bricks. Then have white trim and dark red doors with the door moldings outlined in white. Gray or gray-green also would be nice on shingles, trim and doors.

Dear Polly: My living room walls and woodwork are painted gray blue. I plan to have gray wall-to-wall carpet and a charcoal sofa. May I slip cover one chair and have the drapes in a floral pattern of blue, yellow and green? What for contrast? What color for another chair?—Faithful Reader.

Dear Faithful Reader: Your slip cover and curtain idea sounds good to me. The new chair could be yellow to add a touch of gaiety. My choice for the sofa would not be charcoal but gray like the carpet or blue like the walls.

Girls Can Do Their Own Decorating If They Use the Proper Equipment

YOUNG WOMAN AT WORK—To make her redecorating chore easier, this young woman has chosen a new thick paint (left) that does not drip or spatter. To avoid climbing a ladder, she applies it to ceiling (right) with a paint roller equipped with an extension arm.

Is big brother going off to college? If so, it's a perfect opportunity for Sis to corral her own bedroom or a new bigger room.

A feminine frill and a new paint or wallpaper job and one would never suspect the room had been occupied by a male member of the family.

Vacation time is the ideal time to redecorate the room, and a considerate brother may cooperate by moving his belongings so the job can be completed before school resumes.

One teen-ager, 15-year-old Denise Jones of Wilmington, Del., did just that when big brother "Woody" took off for Polytechnic Institute. The family agreed Dee could have the room, but her father begged off on the redecorating bit, explaining he was too busy to lend a hand.

Lee insisted she could do the job herself, and she did.

She had wanted the room papered, but she settled for paint. She assembled her equipment — paint brush for wall trim, paint roller for walls and an extension arm for ceiling.

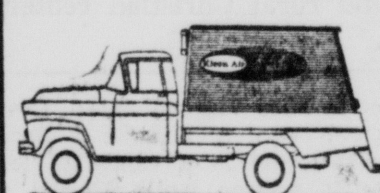

She chose a new paint, thick as a canape dip, but touted to go on smooth, and not drip or splatter. It worked without thinning or stirring, and "missed" spots were patched up easily, blending into the surrounding paint. The lucite colors, pink and green, were chosen to blend in with Colonial furnishings.

After the wallpaper was removed, Dee began painting, using the lid of the paint can as a palette. At one point she dropped a loaded paint roller, mopping it up at once with a damp sponge. The long-handled roller made painting the ceiling a breeze.

Her room furnishings include a

Eight More Freedom Riders Arrested in Jackson, Miss.

Another attempt to crack the segregation barrier at Jackson, Miss., has brought to 198 the number of "Freedom Riders" arrested in the Deep South city.

The arrest of eight additional persons occurred the same day Minnesota officials reported five riders from that state had not been mistreated at the Mississippi State Penitentiary at Parchman, 120 miles northwest of Jackson. The eight charged with breach of the peace at Jackson Friday were described as the first group to stage a "Freedom Ride" from Montgomery, Ala., to Jackson since July 2.

No Trouble Tom Gaither, field secretary for the Congress of Racial Equality, said CORE sponsored the trip and that one white woman, three white men and four Negro men took part. No incidents were reported. While the biracial group was making the trip, Acting City Judge W. B. Fontaine of Jackson convicted 20 riders and handed

THE PEEK HOME BOARD met recently to plan a tea and open house at the home July 30 from 3 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. Attending were (left to right) Mrs. F. G. Eno, Dixon, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Datschewski, Sandwich; Mrs. Albert Warfel, Lanark; Mrs. Arthur Litwiler, Milledgeville, chairman; Mrs. Clarence Ewald, Steward; Mrs. W. A. Marth, Rockford; Mrs. Bertha Baker, Mt. Morris; Mrs. Elwyn A. Trotter, Morris, and Mrs. Ray Keefe, Polo. Members of the board not shown are: Mrs. Edward Lawton, Dixon, vice chairman; Mrs. C. Clifford Cummings, Elgin; Mrs. Roy Butler, Malta; Mrs. Robert Stacy, Rockford, recording secretary, and Henry Kitzmiller, farm committee chairman. The open house is being given to acquaint people of the Rock River Conference with the facilities available and the program now in effect at Peek Home. Mrs. Stacy, general chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. Lawton, Mrs. Eno, Mrs. Butler, and Mrs. E. V. Ennis, hostess-director of the home, and her assistant, Miss Virginia Snead.

Study Future of Peek Home

"Children are wanted at Peek Home," a statement appearing in the World Outlook in 1957, is still true in 1961. Young people and adults are also needed to develop the interim program of this year-round rural Christian center, according to the home's officials.

The home is used for retreats, conference meetings, and meetings of youth groups of all denominations, who come for weekends, day meetings or full weeks. These groups provide their own programs and leadership, and assist with the dining room and kitchen service for their work projects.

Located one mile off Rts. 52 and 26 between Dixon and Polo, Peek Home has long been noted for its progressive program of child care. The board reports this program, to keep pace with the changing times, must also change if children in the home are to become responsible Christian citizens. The Woman's Division has, therefore, temporarily discontinued the child care program at Peek. Funds that have been raised and are still being donated for the child care program are being invested until such time as a decision can be reached on the best possible plan for giving children the care and stability they need to prepare them for today's world.

Temporary Program

While plans for Peek to continue as a children's home are being formulated, the temporary program now in progress continues in the same tradition of service for which the Woman's Division is known. Groups interested in learning of available dates and fees for retreats or meetings at the home may contact the new director, Mrs. E. V. Ennis, Polo.

Mrs. Ennis, formerly of Norfolk, Va., has been a public school instructor for nine years. She has spent many years serving as an officer in the Woman's Society of Christian Service on local, district, and conference levels. For the past eight years she has been a jurisdiction officer and has given many lectures to promote all phases of the mission program of the Methodist Church.

Assisting Mrs. Ennis for the summer is Miss Virginia Snead, Covington, Va., a Scarritt College student, who is a candidate for foreign mission work. She is a graduate of Madison College, Harrisonburg, Va.

Peek Home is and will continue to be the "gathering place" for children, youth, and adults who live in the Rock River area. Richard Riggan, who recently completed his sixth year of living at the home, said, "Peek is the only real home I know and I want to live here next winter and graduate from Polo High School."

Recently, "Judy," who left the home for a year, came to Peek for a visit, and was so happy to be "home" she asked to come back and work for two weeks to earn her vacation room and board.

Miss Louise Landon, a missionary on furlough from Landow Community Hospital, India, has expressed a desire to live for a few weeks in the quiet atmosphere of Peek Home.

Methodist leaders of the Rock River Conference Woman's Society are the elected members of the Peek Home Board. They meet once a month to discuss, evaluate, and plan for the program and its success.

New Officers

New officers for 1961-62 recently elected are: Mrs. Arthur Litwiler, Milledgeville, chairman; Mrs. Edward Lawton, Dixon, vice chairman; Mrs. Robert Stacy, Rockford, recording secretary, and Mrs. F. G. Eno, Dixon, treasurer.

Other members of the board are: Mrs. Ray Keefe, Polo; Mrs. C. Clifford Cummings, Elgin; Mrs. Albert Warfel, Lanark; Mrs. W. A. Marth, Rockford; Mrs. Richard Datschewski, Sandwich; Mrs. Clarence Ewald, Steward; Mrs. Bertha Baker, Mt. Morris, and Mrs. Roy Butler, Malta.

Henry Kitzmiller, Polo, is an exception to the rule of "Woman's Society members on the Board." Peek Home has 151 acres of rich, productive farm land adjacent to the home and Kitzmiller is chairman of the committee that supervises the rental and operation of the farm. He is a member of the board with the right to vote on all motions. Serving on this farm committee with Kitzmiller are John H. Harris and Harold Glaman, both of Polo.

To acquaint the people of the Rock River Conference with the facilities and the program now in effect at Peek Home, the board will sponsor a tea and open house July 30 from 3 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. to which all friends of the home are invited.

UAW Presents Contract Proposals in Piecemeal

By DWIGHT PITKIN

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union plans to complete next week presentation of its new contract proposals to the auto companies.

UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock denied Friday the union was delaying progress in bargaining on specific demands by offering its proposals piecemeal in lengthy statements of policy.

"We're spacing this out not for any devious purpose," he said. "We want an opportunity to have the information in the hands of our local union leadership as we present it."

Informing Members

Woodcock said most of the bargaining statements submitted so far deal with matters of interest only to UAW members who are being kept informed as to "what we are trying to do in these negotiations."

After negotiations at the big three were recessed Friday for the weekend, General Motors' vice president Louis G. Seaton said, "The piecemeal approach doesn't help collective bargaining. It delays things. We have no quarrel with their way. But it's essential to understand the areas of difference as early as we can to know what we are arguing about."

Contract negotiations got underway at GM June 28, then on successive days at Ford and Chrysler, and on Thursday of this week at American Motors.

Job Opportunities Question Seaton and Woodcock tangled Friday over the union's claim that mechanized production has cut down General Motors' work force.

The GM vice president for personnel said, "It seems the union is trying to create the impression that we have not been interested in creating new job opportunities."

Declaring this was not the case, Seaton said the trend in employment at GM has been upward in the past 10 years. Woodcock had there had been a decline of 73,000 hourly rated workers at GM since 1955.

Seaton said an employment peak of 410,000 was reached in 1955 because the company had many temporary employees to meet a big demand for new cars.

Palace Grounds, 'A Lovers' Lane'

Nab Bigamous Pair in Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Police arrested Richard Rowe, 23, and his wife, Myrlann Friday for investigation of a slaying in Robinson.

Officers said the two were wanted as fugitives from Robinson in connection with the June 15 slaying of Samuel H. Burris, 55. They are also wanted for investigation of bigamy.

Rowe and his wife, 21, told New Orleans police they fled Illinois to avoid arrest for bigamy.

Driver Faces OMVI Charge

State police Friday night arrested John O'Neil, 48, Medina, on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. The arrest was made at the intersection of Rts. 51 and 30.

O'Neil appeared before Justice of the Peace Albert Kennedy who set bond at $1,000 and continued the case until Monday at 10 a.m. O'Neil was unable to post bond and was being held in Lee County jail.

Mendotan Pays Slot Machine Tax

CHICAGO (AP) — A federal slot machine tax stamp has been sold to F. Anson Batchelder, Midway Cafe, Rt. 2, Mendota, according to Harold R. All, district director of Internal Revenue Service.

In a report for the 1960-61 fiscal year, All said the number of tax stamps sold in northern Illinois decreased. In 26 counties in the area sales for the year ended June 30 were 263 slot machine stamps compared with 256 in the 1959-60 year. Sales in Cook County fell from 140 to 60.

All said he could give no reason for the drop.

Defiant City Plans Strict Welfare Rules

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (AP)—The city of Newburgh, defying the state, the federal government and its own welfare commissioner, prepared today to go ahead with a new set of strict welfare rules it says are needed to keep the city solvent.

The proposed new rules—widely hailed and widely condemned across the nation—are to go into effect July 15. A court action by the state of New York against the city appeared likely in the wake of a stormy hearing on the legality of the rules in Albany Friday.

The committee that conducted the hearing recommended that the State Welfare Board order Newburgh officials not to implement the 13 regulations.

City Officials

Nine of the city's officials refused to testify at the hearing conducted by the State Social Welfare Board. The tenth, Welfare Commissioner John J. O'Donnell, disagreed with the others and testified he could not legally enforce 10 of the new rules.

Newburgh officials claim, the Hudson Valley city of 31,000—5 per cent of whom are on relief—needs the rules to maintain its fiscal balance. Critics call the plan illegal, inhuman and discriminatory against Negroes, who are predominant among the welfare cases.

In his testimony to the board, O'Donnell said 10 of the new rules violate state or federal law. He cited the city plan to deny aid to mothers of illegitimate children while on relief.

He also agreed with the state that under federal rules abedridden men receiving federal aid may not be required to work on municipal projects, as the new rules provide. O'Donnell said he was considering resigning.

When the board said it was limiting testimony to that directly connected with Newburgh's welfare rules, City Manager Joseph

Mitchell and eight other city officials refused to testify.

Programs Mitchell said after the hearing the board "did not want to hear anything about Newburgh's social and economic programs." He told reporters the city will go ahead with its program as planned.

The Newburgh branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People issued a statement saying "racial discrimination is the motivating factor behind the Newburgh program."

Newburgh officials have denied this throughout, saying the problem is purely one of taxes. The city spends $900,000 a year for welfare—nearly $500,000 of which comes from federal or state aid.

LaHarpe Phone Company Asks For Rate Hike

Schweitzer Heads Summit Peace Meet of Religions

LONDON (AP)—Dr. Albert Schweitzer, famed humanitarian and Nobel Peace prize winner, has agreed to be honorary head of a proposed summit peace conference of religious leaders, it was disclosed today.

Rabbi Maurice N. Eisendrath, president of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, announced appointment of the famed 86-year-old medical missionary at the 12th International Conference of the World Union for Progressive Judaism.

Rabbi Eisendrath told delegates of 22 nations that Premier Khrushchev, President Kennedy and other world leaders appear further apart than ever in their negotiations.

It is the duty of religion, he said, to exert moral pressure to try to persuade the heads of state to subordinate self interest and hasten their negotiations so an accidental push of a button may not destroy the world.

The idea of a summit conference of religious leaders was proposed in 1959 by Rabbi Eisendrath after discussions with leaders of Islamic, Buddhist, Moslem, Hindu and Shintoist faiths as well as outstanding Christian churches.

Rabbi Eisendrath said he hoped to form an international organizing committee and expected the conference would be held by late 1962 or early 1963. He recommended Bombay as the summit site.

Karrow, Rt. 4, and the bridegroom's parents are Floyd G. Frey and Mrs. Roberta Frey Preston, Decatur. Performing the double ring wedding were the Rev. Ira B. Wilson, pastor of the Emmanuel EUB Church, Polo, and the Rev. H. O. Krell.

Vocal selections by Mrs. Dale Zimmerman, Madison, Wis., included "Because," "O Perfect Love," and "The Lord's Prayer." She was accompanied by Mrs. Delroy Long, organist. Arrangements of white gladioli flanked by candelabra holding lighted tapers trimmed the altar of the church for the ceremony.

Bridal Gown
Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white lace over taffeta fashioned on princess lines. Her fingertip veil of English mist was held by a pearl crown, and her cascade bouquet was of stephanotis and ivy surrounding a white orchid.

Two sisters of the bride, Miss Marge Karrow, and Miss Grevinde Karrow served as maid of honor and bridesmaid. Their blue street-length dresses of nylon chiffon were worn over daron crepe, and they carried arrangements of white carnations and pink roses.

Brother Is Best Man
The bridegroom's brother, Keith Frey, Columbus, Ga., acted as best man, and another brother, Melvin Frey, Decatur, was groomsmen. He also assisted Dale Zimmerman, Madison, Wis., with the ushering.

A reception for the wedding party and guests followed the ceremony in the church parlors. Presiding at the serving table and registering guests were Miss Roberta Frey, Miss Bernice Frey, Miss Mary Jane Sylvester, Miss Sharon Frey, Miss Beverly Rockabrand, Miss Judith Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Youngren, and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Wilson.

Wedding Trip

She is a graduate of North Central College, Naperville, and is an instructor in the public schools of LaGrange. Her husband graduated from Polo Community High School, and is employed by the Edward J. Hines Lumber Company, Batavia, where they are residing.

Miss Janet Lytle and Ralph Combs Exchange Vows in St. James Church

ROCHELLE — White baskets holding arrangements of daisies and snapdragons trimmed the altar of St. James Catholic Church in Lee for the May 20 wedding uniting Miss Janet Lytle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lytle Sr., Steward, and Ralph Combs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Combs, Paw Paw. The Rev. Fr. Edward Connolly officiated at the double-ring ceremony, and nuptial music was provided by Mrs. Ann Herro, Oconomowoc, Wis., vocalist, and Wayne Osenberg, DeKalb, organist.

A floor-length gown of applique lace and net fashioned with short puff sleeves and a scoop neckline was selected by the bride for her wedding. The bouffant skirt was trimmed with appliques of the lace, and a crown of pearls and crystal secured her full fingertip veil of silk illusion. White carnations and rosebuds with accents of green ivy formed her cascade bridal bouquet. Mr. Lytle gave his daughter in marriage.

Attendants
Miss Carol Andrews, Calumet City, as maid of honor, and Miss Mary Lytle and Miss Helen Herrmann, as bridesmaids, wore pastel pink frocks of silk organza with matching hats, and carried colonial bouquets of daisies.

J. Edgar Hoover's Own Story: Masters of Deceit

Communism in America and How to Fight It

By J. EDGAR HOOVER
Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation

THE COMMUNIST PROPAGANDA MACHINE with its tactics of infiltration and division has long fostered the false claim of widespread influence in the Jewish communities of the United States.

One of the most malicious myths that has developed in the United States is that persons of the Jewish faith and communists have something in common. The people who gave the world the concept of our monotheistic God and the Ten Commandments cannot remain Jews and follow the atheism of Karl Marx and the deceit of the communist movement.

It is a matter of record that numerous Communist Party leaders call themselves Jews and claim a Jewish origin. This does not, however, make them Jews, any more than William Z. Foster's Catholic background and Earl Browder's Protestant background give them any standing in the present-day Catholic and Protestant communities in the United States.

A HIGHLY PLACED LEADER in the Communist Party, U.S.A., recently advised Party organizers working in Jewish groups to represent themselves as Jews. This indicates the deception the Party practices.

Typical of communist claims which have fostered the false myth that Jews have an affinity for communism are the remarks of Paul Novick, the editor of the Morning Freiheit, a communist paper published in Yiddish in New York City. Novick said: "The development of Yiddish literature in the United States went hand-in-hand with the growth of the Socialist movement at the beginning of this century and of the Communist Party after the October Revolution."

On the same occasion Novick then went on to brand the followers of Judaism for "degeneration sown among the Jews by reaction" and then condemned their opposition to "the progressive movement, against the Soviet Union and against Communism." Novick's true loyalties were revealed in an article in the Morning Freiheit in December 1956, after the display of Soviet brutality in Hungary. He "explained" that there was an anti-Semitic and fascist element in the Hungarian uprising, and insisted that, "we must not only approve the Soviet actions in Hungary, but really appreciate it!"

THE WIDELY READ NEW YORK newspaper, Jewish Daily Forward, on February 16, 1957, effectively identified Novick in a story captioned "Editor of Communist 'Freiheit' Is Bitter Enemy of the Jewish People." Readers were reminded that after the Hitler-Stalin pact in 1939 (which gave Hitler a go-ahead for his invasion of Poland, in which Russia joined) Novick's Freiheit justified and praised the pact. The Forward also pointed out that Novick had asserted that the communist dictators in Czechoslovakia were correct in arresting Rudolf Slansky and thirteen former communist leaders, eleven of whom were Jews. The Forward said flatly that "anti-Semitic poison just poured out" of Novick.

One man, who was in the Party for twenty-five years and held high Communist Party offices, told F.B.I. agents that when he joined the Party he had renounced the existence of God; that he had tried to impose on others his atheistic views, and that he was "not a religious Jew." He flatly said that most of the Party members he knew who claimed to be Jews did not follow their religion; did not attend the synagogue and did not take part in any organized Jewish religious activities.

Some of the most effective opposition to communism in the United States has come from Jewish organizations such as B'nai B'rith, the American Jewish Committee, the American Jewish League Against Communism, the Anti-Defamation League, and a host of other Jewish groups.

THE REASON FOR COMMUNIST interest in minorities in the United States is, of course, the opportu-ties thus provided for exploitation and propaganda. The large number of communist fronts using the word "Jewish," as well as publications that the communists dominate, is for the obvious purpose of conveying a false impression of strength among those who embrace the Jewish faith.

In dealing with those of the Jewish faith, the communists invariably do so in terms of discussing "the Jewish question." In reality, by this propaganda technique the communists deliberately foster the false idea that the Jews are a "problem," which is denied by the record of good citizenship and civic responsibility of adherents of Judaism in the United States.

Meanwhile, what of the Jews in Russia? The American Jewish League Against Communism declared in 1948 that "Soviet Russia's million and a half Jews are the forgotten people of the world." The League lists among its proudest achievements that "it was the first American organization to expose and document the communist anti-Jewish policies" of the Soviet government.

A TRUE FOLLOWER OF THE Jewish faith cannot embrace communism. Marxism-Leninism is irrevocably opposed to all religious beliefs and all forms of worship, whether they be Catholic, Protestant, Jewish, or Moslem. One of Lenin's basic teachings is, "We must combat religion — this is the A.B.C. of all materialism, and consequently Marxism . . . The Marxist must be a materialist, i.e., an enemy of religion . . ."

The communists make no distinction among any of the world's religions, as the leading Soviet crusader against religion, E. Yaroslavsky, makes clear: ". . . the priests of every cult have their own way of deluding the masses. . . As to differences between one religion and another, they are of little, if any, consequence."

Yaroslavsky, who was onetime head of the League of Militant Atheists in the Soviet Union, also said:

"THE JEWISH SYNAGOGUES were not granted any privileges whatsoever by the Russian state, but they were fully supported by the Jewish bourgeoisie. The Jewish rabbinite, like its sister priestcrafts, drew close to the side of the rich because the Jewish church had also incorporated in its credo the justification of the existence of exploiting classes in society . . ."

The unrestrained emotional outbursts of Hitler against the Jews were reminiscent of the Marxian tirades against Judaism.

From the days when communism came to power in the Soviet Union, communists have conducted a systematic campaign to cripple and destroy organized Judaism as well as other religious faiths. On January 23, 1918, the Lenin dictatorship issued a sweeping decree "On the Separation of the Church from the State, and of the School from the Church." Under it, all church property was nationalized; churches were denied rights of legal recourse; the teaching of religion was banned in public and private schools; the right of people to attend religious services on work-days was revoked; and the keeping of records of births, marriages, and deaths was taken from the churches and put under the exclusive control of civil authorities.

WHILE RELIGIOUS SERVICES were still allowed, the clergy was reduced to the status of second-class citizenship; a campaign of terror was launched leading to the arrest and imprisonment or execution of priests, rabbis, ministers, and other church leaders on such vague charges as "counter-revolutionary activity" or "crimes against the people."

General Walter Bedell Smith reported after his three years as Ambassador to the Soviet Union that in June, 1948, about thirty churches were open in Moscow, which included one Jewish synagogue for an estimated 300,000 Jews. During World War II General Smith reported, "Two religions — the Jewish and the Roman Catholic — did not gain even temporary benefits from the wartime policy of greater religious tolerance; in fact, on balance, it is probably safe to say that attacks upon them have been stepped up rather than relaxed in recent years."

In abolishing the rabbinical schools, the Soviets are seeking the gradual extinction of Judaism without a program. Judaism cannot exist unless Hebrew is taught so that rabbis can study the Torah and Talmud in the original language in which they were written.

Thus, when the present generation of Soviet Jews passes on, there will be no more rabbis.

A SIMILAR PROGRAM OF suppression of Jewish institutions shifted to the new communist satellite countries after World War II. Jewish schools were abolished, Jewish organizations banned, and even athletic clubs bearing Jewish names were forced to change their names on twenty-four-hour notice.

The propaganda claims of the Soviets when establishing Birobidzhan should be closely analyzed. This so-called Jewish homeland was set up at a time when the threat of Japanese invasion of the U.S.S.R.'s Far Eastern frontier was real. Thus, the "Jewish homeland" was conceived of as a scheme for populating vast spaces in the Far East of Russia, and to provide a convenient place to settle Jews not wanted in other parts of Russia.

By 1939, after eleven years, the Soviet "Jewish homeland" could claim no more than 30,000 Jews. In 1951 there were around 40,000 in this small community completely separated from the mainstream of Jewish life. It can be guessed what pressures were exerted by the Soviets to get even that small number into Birobidzhan.

The communist propaganda claim that Russia rescued Jews from Nazi extinction also is a deception.

THERE IS NO KNOWN RECORD of any Soviet protest against the Nazi slaughter of Jews during the two years prior to the Nazi invasion of Russia, when Stalin was allied with Hitler. On the contrary, the German Ambassador to Moscow reported to the German Foreign Office: "The Soviet Government is doing everything to change the attitude of the population here toward Germany." The German Foreign Office was informed later: ". . . the Soviet Government has always previously been able in a masterly fashion to influence the attitude of the population in the direction which it has desired, and it is not being sparing this time either of the necessary propaganda."

Even after the Nazi onslaught on Russia, there was a shocking failure on the part of the Soviets to reveal Nazi atrocities against the Jews. As late as 1945, the Soviets in a report on the German concentration camp at Auschwitz (Oswiecim), did not even use the word "Jew," although Jews constituted the majority of those killed by the Nazis.

That the Soviet attitude against Jews has not changed since Stalin's death is evident. Khrushchev recently reiterated the Party line against Zionist movement when he was asked what the Soviet Union would do if the Zionists settled in Soviet territory and demanded a state of their own. He replied with communist contempt, "We have thrown them out of our country."

It is significant that Khrushchev made no mention of the mistreatment of the Jews in his exposure of Stalin, whom he had so loyally served over the years.

When Khrushchev turned on the "smiles" and started visiting other countries, he was confronted with accusations of anti-Semitism in Russia. In England, Khrushchev characterized "anti-Semitism" as "nonsense" to which he would not listen. To a French delegation he protested that he was not anti-Semitic and "explained" that the Yiddish language is fading away in Russia because the Jews in the Soviet Union are learning to speak Russian.

A new low in deception was reached when Khrushchev claimed that, in the early years of the revolution, "Jews occupied a disproportionately large number of high Soviet positions because the country had few trained people." He asserted that the Kremlin had received protests from "the various Soviet Republics that too many Jews held desirable positions." The New York Times story on June 10, 1956, then reported that Khrushchev "reportedly pressed Lazar M. Kaganovich, only high-ranking Soviet leader of Jewish origin, to confirm his statements, which Mr. Kaganovich finally did, saying one word, 'correct.'"

There are no top communist leaders of Jewish origin in the Kremlin since Khrushchev ousted and denounced Kaganovich in 1957.

In the next instalment Mr. Hoover tells in vivid detail of how the communist underground system works in the United States. Don't miss this frightening and revealing account of undercover couriers, escape routes, hide-outs, and clandestine meetings, in tomorrow's Dixon Evening Telegraph.

The Edge of Sadness. by Edwin O'Connor. This is the story of a middle-aged priest, and several worlds in which he finds himself. Comedy and pathos, love and despair, loneliness and compassion, make this book an unforgettable reading experience.

Lost Sons. by Stefan Olivier. A surging novel of the French Foreign Legion to rank with Beau Geste.

To the Rear, March. by Joseph Coogan. An outrageously comic, swift-moving story of a non-regulation GI who, in chasing an absurd dream of glory, creates hell for himself and hilarity for the reader.

Jimmy Riddle. by Ian Brook. A remarkable story combining rich, humor, satire, and a sympathetic but clear-sighted evocation of the fascination, terror and danger of the African tribal heritage.

Triangle. by Isaac Asimov. Three complete novels of the future by one of America's leading science fiction writers.

Three Hearts and Three Lions. by Paul Anderson. Brimming with strange situations and even stranger characters, this is a beautifully told story of the world of medieval romance, for readers of fiction as well as science fiction who enjoy the unusual.

Cupit's 133 Leads Open At St. Paul

ST. PAUL, Minn. (P) — Buster Cupit, a little-known player from Fort Smith, Ark., paced the field into today's third round of the $30,000 St. Paul Open Golf tournament, hopeful of warding off challenges from his tightly bunched competitors.

Cupit shot 67 to hit 133, 11 under par, at the end of 36 holes Friday. He was only a stroke up on Johnny Pott of Shreveport, La., while hot-putting Dave Hill of Denver was at 135.

Pott, the hottest player on the tour at present after pocketing $5,600 in the past two weeks, began to gain favor as competition moved into the third round.

Jack Fleck, former National Open champion at 136, also is regarded as a strong contender.

Gene Littler, current National Open titlist, is five strokes off the pace. Defending champion Don Fairfield is eight shots back at 141.

Reds Take 5 Game Lead; Yankees Grab Top in AL

Cards Nip Giants; Cubs Dump Phils

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cincinnati Reds pushed their winning streak to eight and padded their National League lead to five games Friday night by sweeping a two-night doubleheader with the second-place Los Angeles Dodgers 11-7 and 4-1. They did it before a record NL night-game crowd of 68,742 at the Los Angeles Coliseum.

That shot Cincinnati 9 games ahead of the third place San Francisco Giants, who lost 3-2 to St. Louis. The Pittsburgh Pirates beat Milwaukee 6-5 and Chicago's Cubs whipped Philadelphia 9-3.

The Reds came from behind in the opener, going ahead 4-3 on a two-run homer by Gene Freese in the third inning off Dodger ace Sandy Koufax (11-5) and then piling up four unearned runs in the fourth after a two-out error by Frank Howard. Rookie Ken Hunt (9-4) gave up three runs in the first inning but beat the Dodgers a second time, with relief help.

Freese also homered in the nightcap, after the Reds had nailed Stan Williams (8-8) for two runs in the fourth. Bob Purkey won this one for an 11-4 record.

The Cards won their first under new manager Johnny Keane by coming from behind with two runs in the ninth. Relief ace Stu Miller (6-2) was the loser while Lindy McDaniel (4-3) won it in relief.

Pittsburgh also came from behind in the ninth, on a two-run error by Felix Mantilla that beat Warren Spahn (8-11) in relief. Rookie Al McBean won his first after Hank Aaron belted in all of the Braves' runs with a pair of homers off starter Harvey Haddix.

Latman Beats Sox For 8th in a Row

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's one heckuva parlay, but the New York Yankees are back on top in the American League race because the Los Angeles Angels have cast off their castoff label with a seven-game winning streak—and what might have been a record home run spurge.

Those fallen Angels, on the rise out of the deepest cellar the AL ever has had, dropped the Tigers more ways than one Friday night, knocking them off 4-2 on Steve Binko's tie-breaking home run in the eighth inning and spilling Detroit to second place.

Binko's shot, off Terry Fox, the Tigers' previously unbeaten relief ace, and a ninth-inning home run by Earl Averill gave the Angels 27 homers in 15 consecutive games. That had been the record AL total from 1941 until last month — when the Yankees bettered their 20-year-old mark by crashing 29 in 15 games.

Yanks Drop Bosox
The Yankees did some belting of their own Friday night, clobbering the Boston Red Sox 14-3 on 16 hits for their third straight success.

Baltimore took two from Kansas City, 6-2 and 5-0, and gained a tie for third place with the Cleveland Indians, who walloped the Chicago White Sox 9-0. Washington defeated Minnesota 3-0.

Right-hander Ken McBride (8-5) won his third in a row with a seven-hit job on the Tigers.

Top Yankee Stickers
Elston Howard drove in four runs, three with his third home run, in two games, and Bobby Richardson and Roger Maris each knocked in three runs for the Yanks. Bud Daley (7-10), the former Kansas City southpaw, was the winner. He gave up eight hits — one a seventh-inning homer by Jim Pagliaroni for the first run off Yankee pitchers in 25 innings. Gene Conley 3-7 was the loser.

Jim Gentile, the Orioles' ailing first baseman, broke up a 2-2 tie in the opener with a pinch-hit grand slam home run in the sixth inning off Ed Rakow (1-4). It was his fourth slam of the season, tying the AL record held by Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Rudy York, Tommy Henrich, Al Rosen and Ray Boone. Chuck Estrada (7-5) was the winner.

Skinner Brown (7-3) then shut out the A's on four hits in the second game. Doubles by Jerry Adair and Brooks Robinson triggered a two-run third inning that beat Jim Archer (6-4).

Latman Wins Eighth
The White Sox collected 10 hits but failed to score on former teammate Barry Latman. Latman scored his eighth victory without defeat and was seldom in serious trouble.

Cleveland staked Latman to a 3-0 lead in the first seven innings and then erupted for six runs in the eighth to seal the verdict.

Bubba Phillips drove in the first Cleveland run in the opening inning with a sacrifice fly, scored the second in front of Willie Kirkland's homer and added a run-producing single in the eighth. John Romano, also a former Sox player, hit safely in the big eighth.

Rookie Joe McClain (7-7) gave the Senators' staff its second straight shutout. Pedro Ramos (5-10) was the loser.

Polo Dumps Morrison in Legion Meet
POLO—Howard Hook limited Morrison to three hits and struck out 13 batters Friday night to lead Polo to a 4-0 win in the semifinals of the District 13 Junior Legion Tournament.

Morrison held Polo scoreless until the fifth when three walks loaded the bases, and Hackett socked a single to plate two runs. Polo added two more insurance runs in the last of the sixth.

Hackett and Hammer each had a pair of hits for Polo.

In the other semifinal game Sterling edged Freeport 5-4. Bill Stanley was the winning hurler. Marty Hartlieb the loser. Polo and Sterling will now meet for the championship Sunday, July 16, at Sterling. Game time is 2 p.m.

Polo Golfers Win At Plum Hollow
The Polo golfers of Plum Hollow tripped the Dixon golfers of the Hollow seven matches to three in last Tuesday morning's competition. John R. Dixon of Polo had a 74 while Dixon's John Rich and Polo's Bud Olsen fired 79s.

Senator Wants Inquiry On AAU Russian Trip

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (P) — The U.S. track team heads for Moscow tonight for its meet against the Russians next weekend amid demands for a congressional investigation into the trip.

Minor League Results

Pacific Coast League
Tacoma 6-5, San Diego 2-2
Seattle 4-2, Vancouver 1-4
Salt Lake City 7, Hawaii 5

The controversy started when nine athletes who made the team in tryouts declined invitations by the AAU to make the trip to Moscow and subsequent meets in West Germany, England and Poland. Some said they were willing to go to Russia only. But the AAU turned them down.

Sen. Clair Engle (D-Calif.) called for a congressional inquiry into the AAU's handling of the affair. He suggested that chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee look into the matter because the State Department had advanced the AAU $92,132.50 for expenses.

'Bad Business'
"We all know that the Russians use these athletic events for propaganda purposes," Sen. Engle said in a letter to Fulbright. "It seems to me that it is very bad business for our government to help finance a trip to Moscow if we are not sending the strongest team we can put on the field."

Jim Simms, secretary-treasurer of the AAU, answered the charges. "It is not a grant from the State Department," he said. "It is a loan and we have paid them back 100 cents on every dollar in the past. We simply do not have enough money in our treasury to finance something like this. We would welcome an investigation."

Nothing New
"Ever since we started sending athletic teams into Russia in 1958 we have received money from the state department."

The nine athletes who refused to make the tour include shotputters Parry O'Brien and Dallas Long, discus throwers Rink Babka and Al Oerter, hammer throwers Hal Connolly and Al Hall, javelin thrower Bill Alley, pole vaulter Ron Morris and quarter-miler Otis Davis.

Pinky Sober, head of the AAU Track and Field Committee, said he wasn't annoyed at the stay-at-homes.

Personal Reasons
"We appreciate that some of our older competitors have personal problems that make it difficult for them to go on trips and don't blame them at all for staying home," he said.

The party includes 31 men (10 already are in Europe), 17 girls, 4 coaches, 4 managers, a trainer, doctor and nurse plus Sober.

Chuck Cottier, utility infielder with the Detroit Tigers, has been in the big leagues for parts of three seasons and has had three different managers — Fred Haney, Chuck Dressen and Bob Scheffing.

Once Scowling Russ Oarsmen Now Smiling
HENLEY ON THAMES, England (P) — The scowls of Russia's muscular oarsmen have magically turned to smiles and banter along this silvery strip of the River Thames.

In all its ancient and honorable history, the Royal Henley Regatta rarely has been so bathed in international goodwill.

When Soviet oarsmen came here first in 1954 they moved from camp to river in disciplined groups. Unsmiling officials in civilian suits discouraged the curious.

Few Restrictions
Now the Russians — those cheerful chaps in the smart blue track suits — mix freely and openly with the crowds.

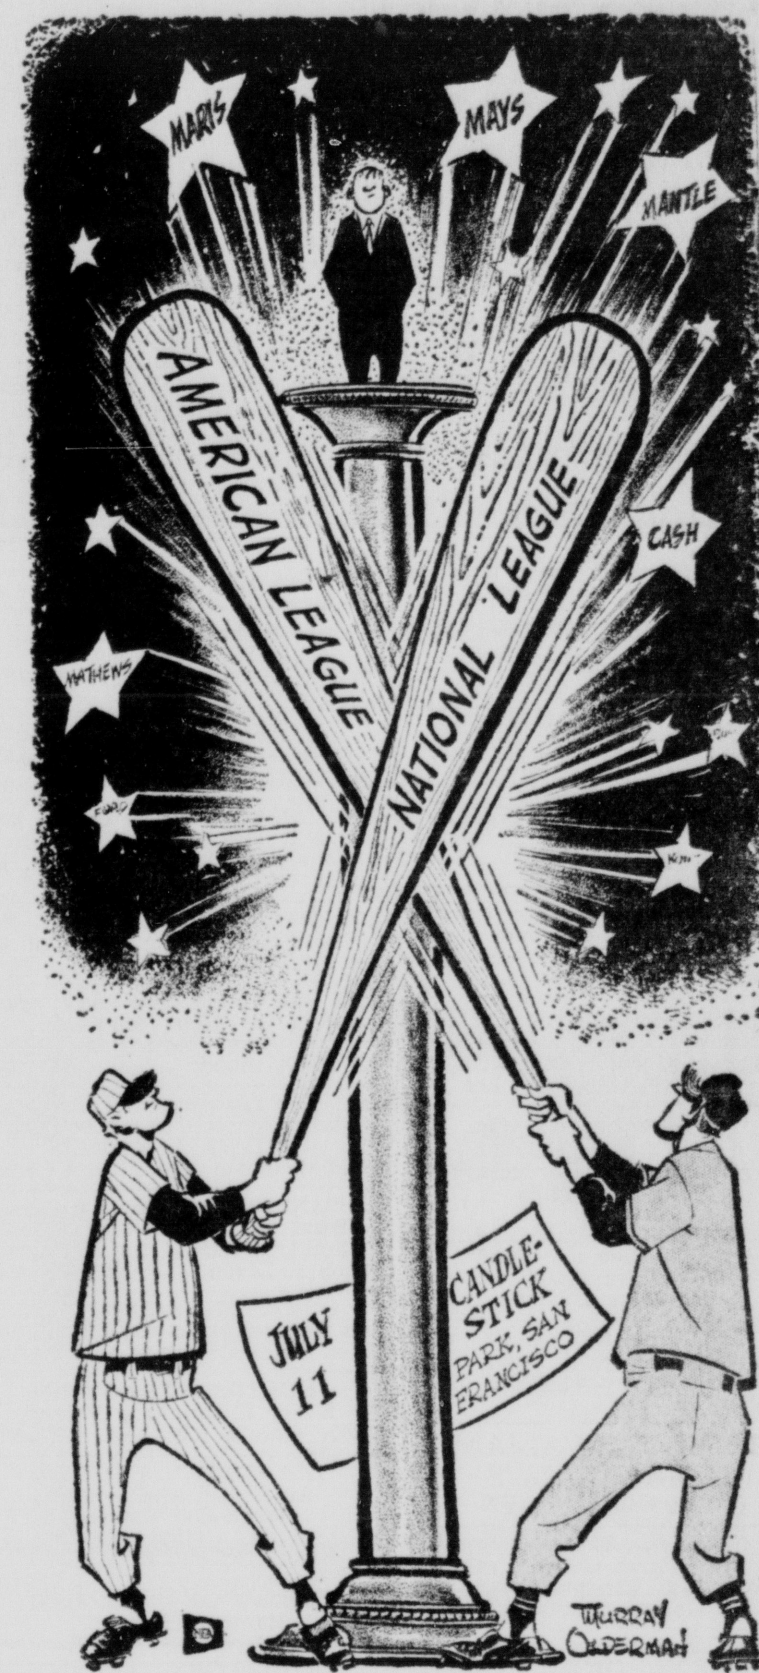

They are photographed joking with pretty girls. They go shopping in this quiet country town in groups of two or three.

Each has a season ticket for the railroad and is allowed to commute as he pleases from the Soviet headquarters six miles out of town.

Play-By-Play
One English-speaking Russian even gives impromptu commentaries on races involving Soviet oarsmen.

The Soviet navy eight finally showed its hand Friday and romped home by 2½ lengths in the Grand Challenge Cup against London Rowing Club.

Dixon Netters Move Up in Moline Meet

Dixon's two defending champions won their way through opening rounds in their respective divisions Friday at the Quad-State Open Tennis Tournament being held in Moline.

Chill Fichter, last year's 18 and under singles winner, received a first round bye and then disposed of Randy Hoff, 6-0, 6-3, in the second frame. Dave Johnson of Dixon also reached the third round by defeating Bob Brissman and Bob Stock in successive rounds.

John Underwood, defending titleholder in the 15 and under age class, found his division loaded with talent this year, but he managed to fight his way to the quarter-final round. Underwood took a first round bye, and then edged past Mike Spenglimeyer, 8-6, 5-7, 6-2, in a hotly-contested match. Dennis Nelson of Dixon advanced to the quarters in the same age group by virtue of a bye and a three-set victory in the second round.

First round doubles play in the 18 and under division saw young John Underwood and Dave Johnson pull a mild upset as they stopped the number four seeded team of Leprevost and Goyer, 4-6, 7-5, 6-4.

Chill Fichter and Clark Slothower also moved ahead with an easy opening victory. Singles and doubles play will resume again in all divisions today and continue Sunday. The Dixon entries are sponsored by the Community Chest.

Illinois Jobs Up; Still Less Than July 1960

CHICAGO (P) — Robert W. Johnston, state labor director, has reported Illinois non-farm employment gained 40,000 workers in the one month period between April and May.

But he said the total of 3,378,300 persons employed is still 50,700 under the total for the corresponding 1960 period.

Johnston said the biggest additions to non-farm payrolls included 4,200 basic steel workers, 2,000 workers in metal products plants and 1,900 in electrical machinery, radio and television.

He said the 13,000 factory workers added increased the total in May to 1,131,600, about 60,000 less than in May of 1960.

Teamsters Blamed for Halting Work

WASHINGTON (P) — A trial examiner for the National Labor Relations Board contends that unfair labor practices by a Teamsters Local at Marion, caused a jurisdictional dispute that stopped work on Interstate 57 last year.

The trial examiner, John H. Edie, recommended Friday that the local 347 be ordered to cease interfering with members of Teamster Local 574 who want to work for the D. L. Harrison Co., a Cape Girardeau construction firm. Local 574 is in Cape Girardeau.

The dispute held up work last September and October on a five-mile paving project near Goreville.

Edie also recommended that Local 347 be ordered to compensate 15 members of Local 574 for wages lost when they were forced off the Interstate 57 job.

The NLRB also announced Friday that Dist. 111, International Association of Machinists, had acceded to an order of the board and the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals. The labor organization was ordered to refrain from intimidating employees of the Stanford Engineering Co., Salem.

Lightning Kills 4 Army Recruits

FT. BENNING, Ga. (P)—Four young Army recruits undergoing basic training died violently as a bolt of lightning struck a tree and ricocheted into a group of soldiers at a remote rifle range on the sprawling Ft. Benning military reservation.

Fifteen other soldiers were injured and taken to Martin Army Hospital Friday.

The victims were identified late Friday night by the base PIO as: Melvin C. White, Jr., 18, of Macon, Ga.; James E. Whitaker, 20, New Paltz, N. Y.; Billy G. Casebolt, 17, of Ford's Branch, Ky., and Donald Dinardo, 18, of Pittsburgh, Pa. They were pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital.

None of the 15 soldiers admitted to the hospital is believed to be seriously injured, the PIO said.

The group of about 20 soldiers was receiving instruction in rifle training when a sudden summer thunderstorm came up. The recruits suspended the training and were seeking shelter when the bolt

Estimate Crop Loss to Hit $30,000,000

WASHINGTON (P) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman estimates that farmers hit by drought in the Great Plains will get government crop insurance indemnities totaling $30 million this year.

Actual payments under the program may run as high as $20 million in North Dakota, the hardest hit drought state.

The secretary had instructed John N. Luft, manager of the Crop Insurance Corporation, to visit drought-stricken areas next week to expedite payment of indemnities.

Kennedy Bypasses Joint Chiefs

WASHINGTON (P)—Omission of the Joint Chiefs of Staff from a conference today on the Berlin and German problems raises anew the question of whether they are being pushed into second place as President Kennedy's military advisers.

Kennedy arranged to confer at his Cape Cod home with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Gen. Maxwell Taylor, recently named Kennedy's personal military representative.

Normally, it might be expected that the military chiefs, or at least Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, their chairman, would be included in such a high level conference.

However, the White House view is just one of a series of meetings on the Berlin crisis, that such meetings do not always include representatives of the JCS.

Sources familiar with Lemnitzer's thinking disputed a suggestion that omission of the military chiefs of Lemnitzer means they are being brushed aside in favor of Taylor, an outspoken critic of the JCS system.

These sources said the President is aware of the joint chief's views on possible military measures in the Berlin situation. They noted that Lemnitzer sat in on the recent National Security Council meeting at which possible steps for dealing with the renewed Soviet threat were discussed.

Christian Youth Group Honors Billy Graham

CHICAGO (P) — Billy Graham was lauded as "the greatest Evangelist of modern times" as he was presented the Youth's Distinguished Service Citation Friday night at the 46th convention of the International Society of Christian Endeavor.

The award, presented at each biennial meeting, stated Graham "fearlessly, with matchless faith and with divine power, has successfully used every medium of communication for God's glory."

Graham said, "I do not feel worthy of this award, but I will treasure it and hang it in my study until the day I can lay it at the feet of Jesus Christ."

The international evangelist said people on his recent tour of England and Scotland told him they found a new hope in his message that the Gospel is the answer to the world's dilemma.

Warns Police Defendants

CHICAGO (P) — The eight Summerdale District policemen on trial for alleged conspiracy to commit burglary have been warned not to try to intimidate the state's star witness, Richard Morrison.

Judge James B. Parsons of Criminal Court issued the warning Friday following an incident during the noon recess in which one defendant reportedly shouted at Morrison and called him "a dirty liar."

Morrison, a confessed burglar, has spent five days telling the all-woman jury how he committed 10 burglaries with the help of the accused officers.

Neil Begley, a police officer detailed to guard Morrison, reported the shouting incident when court reconvened after lunch. He said defendant Alan Clements, 31, shouted at Morrison.

Judge Parsons warned the defendants that if there were any further outbursts the individual responsible would be held in contempt of court.

Morrison completed testimony on the 10 burglaries Friday and began attempting to identify items removed from the homes of seven of the accused policemen at the time of their arrest.

Swift and Union Open Contract Talks

CHICAGO (P) — The Amalgamated Butcher Workmen and Meat Cutters Union has opened wage talks with Swift & Co., the first negotiations in the packing industry this year.

Sessions were held this week to explore opposing views on general terms of a new agreement to replace the one that expires Sept. 1. The talks then were recessed, probably for several weeks.

Neither Amalgamated nor the other major industry union, the United Packinghouse Workers has started negotiations with other employers. Bargaining is expected to be in progress throughout the industry by mid-August.

The Swift-Amalgamated talks affect some 5,000 workers in plants in 15 cities, including East St. Louis.

Laughton Studies Role in Senate

WASHINGTON (P) — Charles Laughton, getting ready to play the role of a Southern senator in the motion picture "Advise and Consent," was an intent spectator in the Senate gallery Friday.

He told a reporter that in addition to soaking up Senate atmosphere he came here looking for the kind of Southern accent he thought he should use, and he said he had found it, too.

But Laughton declined to say which senator has the accent he will imitate.

Weatherman Sees Drought To Continue

WASHINGTON (P) — The U. S. Weather Bureau said today that thousands of persons have been caught in a real disaster in drought-plagued areas of the northern Great Plains.

The bureau's weekly crop bulletin said a very serious drought exists in northern Minnesota, the Dakotas, northeastern Wyoming, all of Montana east of the Continental Divide, and the prairie provinces of Canada.

In some areas, it said, the spring was the driest since 1900.

"Without doubt, thousands of persons are caught in a real disaster—not of the spectacular variety produced by hurricanes or tornadoes, but by the insidious kind which destroys slowly and relentlessly."

It said hordes of grasshoppers, which often accompany drought are present and adding to the destruction.

The bureau was not optimistic about the future. It said studies of past droughts in the central Great Plains show that July seldom ends a serious drought.

Elsewhere in the nation, crops were said to be progressing favorably. Harvesting of wheat and other small grains moved rapidly toward completion in the southern Great Plains. Ideal weather pushed the corn crop toward rapid development.
